OLD TIMES IN FRANKFORT.

No. II.

The reproduction of facts concerning the personages and events constituting the story of old times in Frankfort can not well be a consecutive narrative or recital, but rather a collection of incidents from the pages of memory—coming in changing, sometimes fantastic, figures—like the mirage of the desert. As they are either told by the old resident, or recalled by memories of the long ago, they, largely, acquire interest because of the links of attachment that bind them to the changed conditions of the present day, or because of our knowledge of the personages who were actors in the drama that is being reproduced.

The fact that scenes in other and distant lands are revived as part of the detached story of other days does not detract from the interest elicited. In this line was the statement made, one day at Russell's Mills, in this county, to a citizen yet living, but then a boy, by Anderson Powers, a surviving soldier, concerning the demand made by the British, at the battle of New Orleans, for the surrender of the American forces. The American troops lay behind their cotton breastworks, awaiting the onset, and the British were drawn up in battle array in great force. Powers stated that, just before the crash of conflict began, an officer, with escort, bearing a white flag, rode out from the British lines and made a verbal, but formal demand for surrender. He said: "You have no alternative but to yield—our forces outnumber yours—and we have Lord Cornwallis, and Lord Wellington," and other Lords whom he named, "on our side." To this haughty summons, the American officer, in reply, indignantly exclaimed: "We care nothing for your Lords, for we have the Lord God Almighty, the Lord Jesus Christ and General Jackson on our side, and we decline to surrender."

The battle was fought and victory rested with the deadly aim of the squirrel rifles of the Western hunters, who reserved their fire till, as ordered, they could see the whites of the eyes of the foe, and each picked his man, after the fashion of Indian warfare.

There were stirring times in Frankfort, when the call for volunteers was made, to go to the fields of Mexico. The heroic spirit was aroused, under the inspiration of patriotic impulse, and a desperate desire for vengeance sent the hot blood surging through the veins, when the bloody story of the massacre at the Alamo, where Crockett and Bowie fell, was recited with trembling lips at thousands of firesides.

Capt. Ben C. Milam had raised a company of cavalry, and marched to the rendezvous at Louisville, preparatory to embarking for Mexico. Of that company there are now only two living representatives—Mr. Ben Uterback, of this city, and Mr. John H. Reddish, of Ormsby, Oldham county.

A company of cavalry was raised in Woodford county by Thos. F. Marshall, of which company Mr. John E. Miles, of this city, was a member. En route to Louisville this company of about one hundred men, marched down Main street, and were halted in front of the Mansion House, which was then a hotel. They were drawn up in line under the command, "By the reverse flank—form fours—on the right into line—march."

The tactics of the present day is a stranger to such commands, having been revised and reconstructed, both as to cavalry and infantry. Of Capt. Marshall's company only five men are now living.

A young lad of sixteen, from near Shelbyville, applied to Capt. Milam to join his company. On account of his tender age and slight build, he was at first refused, but, on his insistence that he had his mother's consent, and his persistent request to be allowed to join, he was finally accepted. At the battle of Buena Vista, when the regiment was ordered to charge the Mexican landers, Capt. Milam ordered the lad to stay back and not enter the charge. "You are too light, and your horse is too light for the charge," he said. The boy began crying, and begged for permission to go with the others; said he had come all the way to Mexico to fight and didn't want to be considered a coward. He was allowed to go. The charge was a desperate one—hand to hand fighting—sword against lance—horse and rider mixed in one confused melee. After the battle, the lad was found dead on the field, with a Mexican lance piercing through his breast and transfixed to the ground.

In this desperate battle Capt. Milam's life was saved by Humphrey Evans, of this city, who shot and killed, with his pistol, a Mexican whose lance was uplifted and ready to be plunged into Capt. Milam's side, whilst his attention was drawn elsewhere.

Marshall's regiment of cavalry, in which Milam and Tom Marshall had companies, also embraced companies from Madison, under Cassius M. Clay; from Lexington, under Capt. O. P. Beard; from Harrison, under Capt. Jos. Shawhan, and others from other counties. Clay and Marshall were bitter enemies, and a duel between them was narrowly averted at Camargo, Mexico. Marshall, in drilling his men, trenched upon Clay's ground. The latter came out of his tent, with sword buckled on and pistol in hand, and ordered him off. Marshall obeyed, but sent Clay a challenge to a duel, which was accepted, with terms arranged to fight on horseback, with broadswords. Happily the matter was amicably arranged.

It is also said that Marshall, with his company, was crossing a difficult river, in a flat boat. Clay was standing on the opposite bank to assist in the passage. The bank was precipitous and as the boat struck it with force, whilst swinging round, Marshall was thrown into the river. He was quickly pulled back into the boat, and when on his feet, he loudly exclaimed: "I am saved—saved; but I have heard me cry—'Help me, Cassius, or I sink.' " It illustrated a sense of humor that was with him irresistible and impish. S. R. S.

Why Buy McClure's?

McClure's Magazine is bought and read in homes not because it is a magazine, but because it is the magazine. Why?
FIRST—THE PRICE. It costs but one dollar a year, or less than ten cents a number, for over thirteen hundred two-column pages of reading matter. This amounts in actual bulk to twenty or twenty-five books costing anywhere from a dollar to two dollars a volume.
SECOND—QUALITY. The reading matter is written by America's leading writers—the best short story writers, the best writers on timely articles, the best writers of important serials, such as Schurz's "Gleanings of Europe" or Baker's "Railroad Articles."
THIRD—TIMELINESS. The reading matter in McClure's is not only good; it is not only entertaining, amusing, instructive and inspiring—it is also about the subjects in which you and all Americans are most interested at the time. No subjects in the next twelve months are going to be so important as the question of railroad rates and rebates and the question of life insurance. Both of these questions will be discussed by authorities in an impartial, careful, interesting way.
FOURTH—ITS CHARACTER. McClure's Magazine is not edited for children, but at the same time, there is never a line in it that any young girl might not read. Its advertising pages are as clean as its editorial pages.

BIRTHS.

GLENN—In this city, on December 16, to Mr. Moses R. Glenn and wife, a son—Martin Richardson (named after Col. A. D. Martin and Congressman Jas. M. Richardson).

Half the ill that man is heir to comes from indigestion. Burdock Blood Bitters strengthens and tones the stomach; makes indigestion impossible.

A NIGHT IN BOHEMIA.

At the Opera House Thursday evening, was one of the greatest entertainments ever given by local talent, and if you were not there you do not want to miss the second performance to-night. The audience was large and every person in the cast did their very best. Mr. John W. Milam, as the retired actor, could not have been excelled; Mr. Polk Lafon's Dusty Rodes was all right; Mr. Steve Gibbs, as the Irish Policeman, was great, and Miss Lydia Hubbard, as Dolly Nobles, and Mr. W. W. Longmoor, as Tommy Jiggs, were Al. The singing of Miss Edna Bridges, as Violet, accompanied by the male sextette—Messrs. Salem Kennedy, Ike Kennedy, Edgar Harris, Woodson Coleman, Richard McClure and Al. Lillard—was sweet indeed, and the number one of the prettiest on the programme. The male quartette, composed of Messrs. Salem and Ike Kennedy, Harris and Coleman, caught the audience every time they appeared, and they never tired of their music. The Teddy Girls marched beautifully and the little Cake Walkers were just too sweet, while the closing scene of the first act, in which the confetti was thrown, was one of the prettiest tableaux ever seen upon any stage. Messrs. J. Mac VanDerveer and Ben Keenon charmed their hearers, as usual, with their solos and the chorus was first class. The Roundabout's representative—Miss Leota Black—was late in coming on, but she got there with both feet—one on top of the other—and so well did she represent Sis Hopkins, the cracker girl from the mountains, that those who did not know her supposed she was a professional who accompanied Mr. Getz to fill the part. It was a great show, and so well pleased were many of the audience that they are going back to see it to-night.

Accidents come with distressing frequency on the farm. Cuts, bruises, lacerations, Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil relieves the pain instantly. Never safe without it.

THE MAID AND THE MUMMY.

Great New York Musical Success
Comes to Capital Theatre
Next Week.

Theatregoers who see "The Maid and the Mummy" at the time of its presentation here next week have a decided treat in store. The music is by Robert Hood Bowers and he has written some of the prettiest airs that have been heard in many a long day. They are of the jingly order, that makes everybody want to whistle and sing them. One of the big song hits of this merry musical melange is "Oh, Gee, It's Great To Be Crazy." Stanley Murphy, sings this song in the first act (and enacts the role of a would-be Scotch detective), with the assistance of a bevy of lively girls, and nightly receives six to ten ancores. The words of the first verse and chorus are:

"I've had hallucinations and uneasy dreams at night,
And when I oft relate them everybody runs in fright,
They think that I am crazy, that my head is full of wheels,
But every one would envy me if he knew how good it feels.
I've seen a jet black raven rave,
I've seen a broker broke,
I've seen a wooden shaving shave and heard an art-choke.
I've seen a little chip-munk chip and seen a leper leap,
I've often seen a pillow slip and heard a chimney sweep.
Oh, Gee, it's great to be crazy,
crazy, crazy as a loon,
Every fellow's unhappy but the lucky devil who's off his nut.
If you could only realize how foolish it is to be wise,
Every one of you would like to be crazy!"

"The Maid and the Mummy" comes to Capital Theatre Thursday, January 4, 1906.

When Richard Carle wrote his most successful stage creation, "The Maid and the Mummy," he sought to combine all the good points of musical and farcical comedy, light and comic opera, burlesque and extravaganza in this one production. He succeeded so well that "The Maid and the Mummy" was heralded as one of the few great big successes of the last New York theatrical season. The comedy is pure and original, the songs catchy and the dances surprisingly difficult. This merry musical melange comes to Capital Theatre January 4, 1906, with practically the same cast as that which carried it in success at the New York Theatre last fall.

"DO IT TO-DAY."

The time-worn injunction, "Never put off till to-morrow what you can do to-day," is now generally presented in this form: "Do it to-day!" That is the terse and vice we want to give you about that hacking cough or demoralizing cold with which you have been struggling for several days, perhaps weeks. Take some reliable remedy for it to-day—and let that remedy be Dr. Boesche's German Syrup, which has been in use for over thirty-five years. A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve your cough or cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. No matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dread consumption has attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble. New trial bottles, regular size, 75c. At all druggists.

THE CHRISTMAS TIDE.

Christmas, with its joys and sorrows, has come and faded into the past.

Owing to the abounding prosperity of this people, they have opened their hearts and purses this year to an extent never before known in the history of this section of the country.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather of the greater part of the week before Christmas, the stores of our merchants were crowded, from early morning until late at night, with those who were purchasing their Santa Claus supplies. There is not one of our merchants, so far as we could learn, who has not said "It was the best Christmas trade we ever enjoyed."

Now then, after all the feasting and gift giving are past, let us learn to love one another better, to be more charitable for our mutual faults; and, while some of our hearts are sad when we missed those whose dear faces we shall never see again, yet we can thank God and take courage for the future, knowing that "our times are in His hands," who doeth all things well.

FEDERAL OFFICERS TO INVESTIGATE.

Upon complaint made by Senator J. C. S. Blackburn that his mail had been sent to the Governor's office, in this city, and there tampered with, a Postoffice Inspector has been sent here to investigate and make report of the facts.

FIRE IN JEFFERSON COUNTY COURTHOUSE.

Fire raged for two hours under the roof of the Jefferson county courthouse, on Wednesday afternoon, inflicting a loss of about $30,000, with no insurance. The records were saved without damage.

It is supposed that the fire was caused by electric wires among the dry timbers under the iron roof.

Consumption

There is no specific for consumption. Fresh air, exercise, nourishing food and Scott's Emulsion will come pretty near curing it, if there is anything to build on. Millions of people throughout the world are living and in good health on one lung.

From time immemorial the doctors prescribed cod liver oil for consumption. Of course the patient could not take it in its old form, hence it did very little good. They can take and tolerate it for a long time. There is no oil, not excepting butter, so easily digested and absorbed by the system as cod liver oil in the form of Scott's Emulsion, and that is the reason it is so helpful in consumption where its use must be continuous.

We will send you a sample free.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

Worry

Almost Unnerved Me—Heart Pains.

Short of Breath, Faint and Languid.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine Cured Me.

"It has been five years since I was cured of heart trouble by your Heart Cure and Nervine, and I am just as sound as a dollar in that organ today. For several years I had been suffering with my heart. Breathing had become short and difficult at times, sharp pains about the heart, sometimes accompanied with fluttering, would make me feel faint and languid, to the least excitement or mental worry would almost unnerve me. I felt that the trouble was growing worse all the time, and after trying many remedies prescribed by physicians without obtaining relief, I was induced to give your remedies a trial. I was relieved the second day, and after taking three or four bottles all symptoms were removed and have never showed signs of returning."—REV. GEO. W. KIRK, Abingdon, Va.

There are many symptoms of heart disease, which so closely resemble those of more common nervous disorders as to frequently mislead the attending physician. Often in cases of heart trouble the stomach, kidneys, liver or lungs become affected. Again the symptoms may be those of weakened nerves, as head feeling, sleeplessness, timidity, the patient is easily excitable and apt to worry without cause. If you have the least suspicion that your heart is weak study your symptoms and begin the use of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, the great heart and blood tonic, without a day's delay.

All druggists sell and guarantee first bottle Dr. Miles' Remedies. Send for free book on Nervous and Heart Diseases. Address Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

CAUCUSES CALLED.

Chairman McQuown has called the caucuses of the Democratic members of the Legislature to select the officers of the two bodies. The House caucus will meet on Monday night in the Representative Chamber and the Senate in the Senate Chamber.

COURTS TO MEET MONDAY.

There will be courts galore in this city next week. On Monday the circuit and county courts will meet. On Tuesday the Court of Appeals will reconvene.

As Monday is a legal holiday no business will be transacted in either court then in session.

SATURDAY'S MURDER.

On Saturday night, in a saloon (as usual) a young colored man by the name of John Tobin Ellis (son of the well-known colored nurse, Cash Ellis) shot and killed another colored man by the name of Saffell Brown.

It seems that Ellis was "out for blood," and attempted to shoot another man, just before, but the man was too quick for him and disarmed him.

Later Ellis came into the crowded saloon and raised a row with Brown, when Ellis pulled his gun and fired three shots at Brown, two taking effect, killing Brown instantly.

Ellis was arrested and held over to the grand jury, which meets on Monday next, without bail. Another victim to whisky.

STATE FANCIERS AND BREEDERS ASSOCIATION.

After our paper had gone to press, last week it was found that it would be impossible for the owners of the splendid lot of fowls in the exhibit to have them shipped home Saturday, on account of the Christmas congestion at the Express office, so it was determined to continue the exhibition until Saturday night, in order to afford those who had not attended an opportunity to see the display.

This was a wise measure, as the inclement weather had prevented a great many from attending.

We again take occasion to congratulate the management upon the grand success they made of the exhibit.

We trust they can see their way clear to have such an exhibition every year. It certainly was an educator as to the raising of fine poultry.

We regret to learn that it was not financially a success. It certainly was in every other way, and this being the initial exhibit, it would have been an unusual thing if it had been a success in that way.

"POSTER DAY."

It has been proposed to signalize the "Home Coming of Kentuckians," which will be held in Louisville, on Monday, June 14, 1906, by unveiling a bronze statue of Stephen Foster, the author of that immortal song, "My Old Kentucky Home." In order to forward that idea and impress it upon the teachers and scholars of the State, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Prof. J. H. Fuqua, has sent out the following circular letter:

Many of us feeling that it is eminently becoming that this statue be paid for by the school children of Kentucky, as a memento of their appreciation of the distinguished author. The statue is to be placed in the new capitol when completed. A contribution of seventy-five cents from each school in the State will be sufficient. Will you not ask your teachers to explain the matter to their pupils, and ask for a contribution to the same? Let them send the amounts contributed to me and you send them to Joshua D. Powers, Louisville, Ky. Hoping you will take a deep interest in this enterprise, I am,

Yours very truly,

JAMES H. FUQUA.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

Mrs. W. J. Hughes has sold to the Ford & Johnson Co. (formerly Frankfort Chair Co.), her house and lot on the corner of Clinton and High streets, for $4,000. DYING OF FAMINE

Is, in its torments, like dying of consumption. The progress of consumption, from the beginning to the very end, is a long torture, both to victim and friends. "When I had consumption in its first stage," writes Wm. Myers, of Cearfoss, Md., "after trying different medicines and a good doctor, in vain, I at last took Dr. King's New Discovery, which quickly and perfectly cured me." Prompt relief and sure cure for coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchitis, etc. Positively prevents pneumonia. Guaranteed at all drug stores, price 50c and $1.00 a bottle. Trial bottle free.

SALE OF STOCK, FARMING UTENSILS, &c.

Mr. Morton L. Ralphy, who owns and lives upon the old Len Cox place, on the Steadymountain pike, will sell all his stock, farming utensils, household and kitchen furniture, etc., at public sale on Thursday, January 4, 1906. A lot of very desirable property will be sold. Dec. 16-td.

GIVE YOUR STOMACH REST.

Nothing will cure indigestion that doesn't digest the food, itself, and give the stomach rest. You can't expect that a weak stomach will regain its strength and get well when it is compelled to do the full work that a sound stomach should do. You wouldn't expect a sick horse to get well when it is compelled to do a full day's work every day of the week. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is a perfect digestant and digests the food regardless of the condition of your stomach. Relieves indigestion, belching, sour stomach, and all stomach disorders. Sold by J. W. Gayle.

Read McClure's half-price advertisement.

"DO IT TO-DAY."

The time-worn injunction, "Never put off 'till to-morrow what you can do to-day," is now generally presented in this form: "Do it to-day." That is the terse advice we want to give you about that hacking cough or demoralizing cold with which you have been struggling for several days, perhaps weeks. Take some reliable remedy for it to-day—and let that remedy be Dr. J. C. Bone's Cough Syrup, which has been in use for over thirty-five years. A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve your cough or cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. No matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dried consumption has attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in the case of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble. New trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.

THE SEASON OF INDIGESTION.

The season of indigestion is upon us. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for indigestion and Dyspepsia will do everything for the stomach that an overloaded or overworked stomach can not do itself. Kodol Digests what you eat—gives the stomach a rest—relieves sour stomach, belching, heartburn, indigestion, etc. Sold by J. W. Gayle.

Pleasant to take.

Eminent Doctors Praise its Ingredients.

We refer to that boon to weak, nervous, suffering women known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.
Dr. John Fyfe one of the Editorial Staff of The Electric Medical Review says of Unicorn root (Helonias Pectoris) which is one of the chief ingredients of the "Favorite Prescription":
"A remedy which invariably acts as a uterine invigorator." "It makes for normal activity of the entire reproductive system." He continues "In Helonias we have a medicinal which more fully answers the above purposes than any other drug with which I am acquainted. In the treatment of disease peculiar to women it is seldom that a case is seen which does not present some indication for this remedial agent." Dr. Fyfe further says: "The following are among the leading indications for Helonias (Unicorn root). Pain or aching in the back, with leucorrhoea; stonic (weak) condition of the reproductive organs of women, mental depression and irritability, associated with chronic diseases of the reproductive organs of women, constant or frequent loss of the menses, or of the menses; menorrhagia (flooding, due to a weak condition of the reproductive system); amenorrhoea (suppression or absence monthly periods), arising from or accompanying an abnormal condition of the reproductive organs and uterine (thin blood) habit; dragging sensations in the extreme lower part of the abdomen."
If more or less of the above symptoms are present, no invalid woman can do better than take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is the condition ingredients of which is Unicorn root, or Helonias, and the medicinal properties of which it most faithfully represents.

Of Golden Seal root, another prominent ingredient of "Favorite Prescription," Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says:
"It is an important remedy in disorders of the womb, in all catarrhal conditions, and general unfeelingness, it is useful."

Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, says of Golden Seal root:
"In relation to its general effects on the system, there is no medicine in use which there is such general unanimity of opinion. It is undoubtedly one of the tonic value in all debilitated states."

Prof. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, says of Golden Seal:
"Valuable in uterine hemorrhage, menorrhagia (flooding) and congestive dysmenorrhoea (painful menstruation)."
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription faithfully represents all the above named ingredients and cures the disease for which they are recommended.

A list of splendid royalty plays will be offered the patrons of the Capital Theatre next week, beginning with a special New Year's matinee, by the popular DePew-Burdette Stock Company, who will be pleasantly remembered as having visited this city last season. Funny Tom DePew, everybody's favorite comedian, and Will T. Burdette, an actor who has made an enviable record in leading juvenile roles, have surrounded themselves with a strong company, and a week of thoroughly agreeable entertainment is promised. Monday evening the offering will be the sensational and absorbingly interesting comedy melodrama of life in the great metropolis, "The Silver Dagger," which has met with unqualified success in the large cities. The exclusive right to present this powerful play in Southern territory has been secured by the DePew-Burdette Company, and it is now for the first time to be seen at 10, 20 and 30 cent prices. There are four acts and from first to last there are stirring situations, rich dramatic incidents, pure humor and surprising climaxes. The plot is a novel, yet plausible one, and the characters move and act like real human beings. When a thing is said or done there is a reason for it, and there is no necessity to bore the auditor with baseless explanations. Added lustre will be lent to this powerful production by the introduction of uncommonly good specialties. Ladies will be admitted free to witness "The Silver Dagger," subject to the usual conditions, number, however, limited to 300.

NEW L. & N. DEPOT IS A GO.

At last definite steps have been taken with regard to the building of a new L. & N. station in this city.

The railroad has determined to place the amount of the two awards made by the juries in the cases against the Sullivan and Tobin heirs in the hands of the proper officers of court and ask that the necessary deeds be made by the court's commissioners.

The total amount is $25,750, and is considered a full satisfaction for all claims of the owners.

Work will begin on the property now owned by the company and the other buildings will be left until spring, when the tenants will be called upon to vacate.

A HANDSOME PRESENT.

One of the handsomest silk umbrellas I have ever seen was laid upon the desk of the ROUND-ABOUT Saturday afternoon as a Christmas present from the employees of this establishment. It has an elegant mother of pearl handle, gold mounted, and is a beauty. These good people have thus contributed to my protection from the inclemency of the weather, and judging from their many kindnesses in the past, would as willingly help to shield me from the storms of life, and I am just as grateful for the first as if they had done the latter.

May they always be as happy as this renewed evidence of their friendship made me, and may the new year bring them many blessings.

EDUCATIONAL.

Contributed by the Educational Improvement Commission of Kentucky.

THE FIGHT.

The officers and members of the Executive Committee of the Educational Improvement Commission of Kentucky held a meeting at the Capital Hotel in Frankfort, Saturday, December 16th. The meeting lasted all day, and a definite plan of campaign was determined upon.

Among other things which form part of the plans of the Commission, is an effort to determine as far as possible the will of the leading citizens of the State in regard to the State Normal School proposition. To this end the Commission has mailed out 8,000 blank petitions to the 8,000 white school teachers asking that the people be interviewed. Over 7,000 of the 8,000 teachers have already placed themselves on record many times heretofore on the matter.

The attitude of the press is especially gratifying. Out of a lengthy list of editorials last week there was only one that was not heartily in favor of State Normals.

There was an article in a county paper last week by one who signed his name "An Ex-Teacher" that gave vent to the following thought. He said: "Give a prospective teacher a thorough training in all up-to-date State Normal School and then send him out to teach in the average country district and he will become disgusted with conditions, environments, and salary, and abandon the work at the end of the first six months experience."

Here is where the "Ex-Teacher" is clearly in error. The trained teacher knows how to do "common things uncommonly well," and hence his work is a constant delight and fascination. He knows when conditions are wrong, and he has the knowledge, training and heart-power to set to work and right them. It is one of the greatest functions of education to make the poor discontent with their poverty and to fire them with a zeal and determination to better their lot in life. It is possibly the greatest function of a State Normal School to give such training to its student teachers, and to fill them to overflowing with an inspiration that will enable them to meet the adverse conditions in the country and transform them. It was State Supt. O. B. Martin, of South Carolina, who said: "One intelligent and enthusiastic teacher can revolutionize a whole township, and build a monument that will endure as long as appreciative hearts and growing minds endure." Such a teacher will make conditions; he will create environment; he will command a salary. In the wake of his intelligent efforts will follow good schoolhouses, splendid equipment, beautiful school grounds, local taxation, longer terms, larger salaries, and a more healthful public sentiment in favor of better education and a higher citizenship. Such a teacher will practically solve the problem of compulsory education. He will draw the children to him, and secure the co-operation of the patrons.

Again this "Ex-Teacher" seems to infer that the child in the country district is not entitled to a thoroughly trained teacher. Why not? There is no reason why man should not supply there, in the heart of nature, schools that shall offer as good educational facilities as are to be found in town or city. With such schools, the country would be an ideal place for the education of men and women. Without such schools, it is but a question of time when the best blood of the country will move to the towns and cities and leave in our rural districts only the poorest peasant population, too ignorant to know the value and the blessing of an education, and too indifferent to care to secure it for their offspring.

Now is the time for all thoughtful people to meditate solemnly and earnestly. The Legislature will be in session this winter. Are you content to know that Kentucky drags behind all the other States and Territories in this matter? Are you willing to longer deny to the country boys and girls the privilege of a trained teacher? Are you satisfied to know that hundreds of thousands of good, honest country folk are unfavorably inclined toward education for the simple reason that they have never had a trained leader, but in place thereof, have generally had unskilled teachers and miserably poor schools? Do you not believe it is a part of patriotism to change these conditions? If you do, then it is your duty to be up and doing. Write to your Senator and your Representative, and tell them of your convictions. They will gladly give your opinion consideration. This is a government "of the people, for the people, and by the people." Then the people should express themselves to the law makers.

THE EAST KENTUCKY HILLS.

As Recommended and Sung by Lawyer Hawkins, of Praise, Ky.

Oh, the East Kentucky hills!
How majestic and how grand,
With their summits bathed in glory,
Like our Prince Immanuel's Land!
Is it any wonder then, that my heart with rapture thrills,
As I stand once more with loved ones!

On these East Kentucky hills?

Chorus.
Oh the hills, beautiful hills,
How I love those East Kentucky hills!

If o'er sea or land I roam!
Still I think of happy home!
And the friends among those East Kentucky hills!

On the East Kentucky hills!
Where my childhood hours were passed;

Where I often wandered lonely,
And the future tried to cast;
Many are our visions bright,
Which the future ne'er fulfills;
But how sunny were my daydreams,
On those East Kentucky hills!

Oh the East Kentucky hills!
How unchanged they seemed to stand,

With their summits pointed skyward,
To the Great Almighty's Land!
Many changes I can see,
Which my heart with sadness fills,
But no changes can be noticed,
In those East Kentucky hills!

On the East Kentucky hills!
I must bid you now adieu;
In my home beyond the mountains,
I shall ever dream of you;
In the evening time of life,
If my father only wills,
I shall still behold the visions,
Of those East Kentucky hills!

Resolutions in memory of Mr. C. A. Nelson, Lieutenant Commander of the State of Kentucky and Record Keeper of Capital Tent, No. 28, K. O. T. M., Frankfort, Ky.:

Whereas, It has pleased our Heavenly Father to take from us to the beautiful home over the river, our State's Lieutenant Commander and our Tent's Record Keeper, Brother C. A. Nelson,

Therefore, be it resolved by Capital Tent, No. 28, K. O. T. M., Frankfort, Ky.,

First—That we extend to the family our heartfelt sympathy in their distress for the loss of their loved one, who has been always a friend and guide to those in need or distress.

Second—That this Tent has suffered a loss from which it can not easily recover, as Brother Nelson has been a member who has always remembered the pledge he made to his Father, who was always attentive to his duties as an official of this Tent, whom he has served so faithfully as its Record Keeper for years.

Third—Our State has lost its first and faithful Lieutenant Commander, for which he has labored so earnestly.

Fourth—That we spread a copy of these resolutions on the records of our Tent, that an engrossed copy be sent to the family and that we request the local papers and the Bee Hive to publish same.

Fifth—That we drap our charter in black for sixty days.

CLIMATIC CURES.

The influence of climatic conditions in the cure of consumption is very much overdrawn. The poor patient, and the rich patient too, can do much better at home by proper attention to food digestion, and a regular use of German Syrup. Free expectoration in the morning is made certain by German Syrup, so is a good night's rest and the absence of that weakening cough and debilitating night sweat. Restless nights and the exhaustion due to coughing, the greatest danger and dread of the consumptive, can be prevented or stopped by taking German Syrup liberally and regularly. Should you be able to go to a warmer climate, you will find that of the thousands of consumptives there, the few who are benefited and regain strength are those that use German Syrup. Trial bottle 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.
